

the same time, the Journal of the American Medical Association (JAMA) published a letter to the editor that stated:

It is a common knowledge that the medical profession has been the victim of a series of attacks by the press and the public. The attacks have been based on the fact that the medical profession has been accused of being a monopoly, of being a cartel, and of being a conspiracy to defraud the public.

The letter went on to state that the medical profession was "a monopoly, a cartel, and a conspiracy to defraud the public."

The letter also stated that the medical profession was "a monopoly, a cartel, and a conspiracy to defraud the public."

The letter went on to state that the medical profession was "a monopoly, a cartel, and a conspiracy to defraud the public."

The letter also stated that the medical profession was "a monopoly, a cartel, and a conspiracy to defraud the public."

The letter went on to state that the medical profession was "a monopoly, a cartel, and a conspiracy to defraud the public."

The letter also stated that the medical profession was "a monopoly, a cartel, and a conspiracy to defraud the public."

The letter went on to state that the medical profession was "a monopoly, a cartel, and a conspiracy to defraud the public."

The letter also stated that the medical profession was "a monopoly, a cartel, and a conspiracy to defraud the public."

The letter went on to state that the medical profession was "a monopoly, a cartel, and a conspiracy to defraud the public."

The letter also stated that the medical profession was "a monopoly, a cartel, and a conspiracy to defraud the public."

The letter went on to state that the medical profession was "a monopoly, a cartel, and a conspiracy to defraud the public."

The letter also stated that the medical profession was "a monopoly, a cartel, and a conspiracy to defraud the public."

The letter went on to state that the medical profession was "a monopoly, a cartel, and a conspiracy to defraud the public."

The letter also stated that the medical profession was "a monopoly, a cartel, and a conspiracy to defraud the public."

The letter went on to state that the medical profession was "a monopoly, a cartel, and a conspiracy to defraud the public."

The letter also stated that the medical profession was "a monopoly, a cartel, and a conspiracy to defraud the public."

The letter went on to state that the medical profession was "a monopoly, a cartel, and a conspiracy to defraud the public."

The letter also stated that the medical profession was "a monopoly, a cartel, and a conspiracy to defraud the public."